Another Balloon Voyage.

Watertown, N. Y., July 4.—Lamontaigne arrived here this morning with the balloon Atlantic. He announces that as soon as the balloon is repaired he will make another voyage from Chigago eastward.

Minutes of the Balloon Voyage.

Troy, N. Y., July 5.—The Daily Whig learns from Dr. G. that one of the passengers by the balloon, who was on board Troy this morning, the following particulars: T. M. A. M., Louis ville, were abreast of Rochester, over Lake Ontario, when the altitude was changed on account of increase of wind, which was blowing perfectly strong. The capsule and gondola had arrived at Utica.

The supply of gas was small, consequently the balloon did not reach the altitude above the shore. When the storm was highest the vessel was only about thirty feet above the level of the lake.

We reached land in a few seconds in the town of Henderson, Jefferson county, with all hands on deck. A violent wind blew directly westward, the boat swaying to and fro, making rapid oscillations among the higher branches of the trees, the passengers clinging to the rigging. The strength and general excellence of the arrangement of the boat enabled us to have a safe passage. The balloon was left in a high tree swamp, above the boat, and much damaged. The whole distance traveled is 1,150 miles. We started at 6:40 P. M., and reached Utica, 100 miles from Albany, at 11 P. M. Mr. Lamontaigne remained in charge of the balloon. Mr. Wm. Mr. Gager, and Mr. Hyde will come to the Eastern train.

A grand reception will be given at the village of Adams, Jefferson county. Mr. Gager will come to on Troy, Mr. Wise to Albany, and Mr. Hyde to New York.
